ITEMS PICKED UP AROUND THE CLUB

The bonspiel is over and all is well with the world. Oh yes.

We were at Brant with the hockey team last Thursday, and the boys won their game after a hectic (good word) struggle.

But you did not make any money betting on High River to beat Drumheller at Drumheller. Just try the reverse English on this game on Friday and see how it works.

Of course you were at the last card party in the Memorial hall and had a good time in common with all the rest of the gang.

We hear that some of the gallant fire laddies at Stuckey's fire were somewhat damaged by freezing. No Lucy they were not eyewitnesses.

"Christians Awake" was being sung as a Christmas carol when a window was raised and a voice said: "Go say, ye are not Christians and ye are not asleep."

Allan Murray was the best man on the ice at Drumheller last Friday and his friends in Vulcan are congratulating him on his play and High River's win.

Sap—"Say kid, what would I have to give you for just one little kiss?" The Kid—"Chloroform."

We see by the daily papers that an Eskimo has hanged himself and his wife adjusted the noose. Wonder if by a chance he got in a "rummy" game with our Uncle.

Nothing very much doing around the Club these days—cray rummy holds sway; curling talk has died down; hockey and boxing loom up occasionally; but the game of horse-shoes is dead. Oh yes.

Customer—"It's tough to have to pay 50 cents a pound for meat." "Jim my—"Yes but it's tougher when you pay twenty-five."

So that's that for this week.

EASTWAY AND UNION JACK

The annual meeting of the Eastway, W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. W. Fleming, Mrs. W. Marshall presiding. The following new officers were elected: Mrs. D. Lewis, president; Mrs. S. Cockwill, vice president; Mrs. N. Johnson, 2nd vice; Mrs. M.P. Marshall, sec. treas.; Directors, Mrs. Brodick, Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. J. Marshall; auditor, Miss L. Cockwill. The last meeting of this organization was held at Mrs. C. Brodick's. Here the members decided to entertain at a whist drive and dance at the Eastway school, January 17. Everybody welcome. There will also be a dance at the Union Jack school, January 31. Keep these two dates in mind. The next meeting of the W.I. will be held at the home of Mrs. N. Johnson.

Quite a number of parties have taken place during the holiday season. The following have entertained at home parties: Mrs. Lent, Mrs. Brodick and Mrs. Irving. A very enjoyable time was reported from them all.

City of Calgary owned tax sale lands to the value of $1,677,076.61 have been sold in the past six years, and, of this amount $1,426,117.73 has been paid into the sinking fund.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

Services at the usual hours. Communion, the source of supply. Message for the morning "The Garden of the Lord." Bible study 11:30 to 12:30, subject "Jesus begins his Ministry." Christian Endeavor, 7:15. Song service at 8 o'clock followed by an illustrated sermon "The Church with the Revolving Door."

Our annual meeting will be held Thursday, January 23rd. All members and friends are requested to be present at the first banquet to be held in the basement of the church. Supper at 6:30, meeting following.

ST. ALDHELM'S CHURCH ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of St. Aldhelm's Church, Vulcan, was held in the basement of the church after evening service on Sunday, January 12. There was a good attendance, thirty-five being present.

After the meeting had been duly opened by prayer the Rector (Rev. D. F. Kemp) spoke briefly on the work accomplished during the past year, referring particularly to the services of Mrs. Walker as organist and those of Mrs. Daines and Mrs. Keiver in connection with the Sunday school. He informed the meeting that Mrs. Walker had asked to be relieved of her duties until Easter and that Mrs. Keiver had kindly consented to play for the services until then.

The following reports were then read: Sunday school report by Mrs. Daines showed a very successful year. W. A. report by Mrs. Howes, that the net amount raised during the year was $870.00 with a balance in the bank of $225.00, and that the new officers were Mrs. Marshall, president; Mrs. Green, vice president; and Mrs. Mitchell, secretary-treasurer. Parish report by Mr. G. C. Collier, that all expenditures had been met with a small balance on the right side.

Before the election of officers a plea for better attendance and greater activity on the part of the men was put forth by Mr. W. A. Howes and endorsed by the meeting.

Mr. Herdman was again appointed Rector's Warden and Mr. G. C. Collier was re-elected People's Warden on motion of Mr. D. C. Jones, seconded by Mr. R. Herdman. It was suggested from the chair that the old vestry be re-elected en bloc and this was done on a motion by Mrs. Keiver, seconded by Mrs. Ottewill, after names of Mr. Claude Brodick had been added on motion of Messrs. G. C. Collier and W. A. Howes.

Mr. Herdman, Rector's Warden, was elected delegate to Synod on motion of Roy Walker, seconded by Mrs. Discher.

After due discussion it was moved by Mrs. W. A. Howes, seconded by Mrs. Collier, and carried unanimously that an money received from the Union Jack services, be placed in a separate account to build up a fund for the replacement of the car when this becomes necessary.

A vote of thanks to the Sunday School staff moved by D. C. Jones, was carried with enthusiasm.

FIRE DESTROYS SERVICE STATION

Monday morning about ten o'clock fire broke out in Stuckey's service station, and within a few moments the flames covered the whole building.

The cause of the fire was an explosion in the stove, and the stock and building are almost a total loss. The damage is estimated at three thousand dollars, the building only being covered by insurance.

Mr. Stuckey received severe cuts on his arms, and apart from this no personal injuries were sustained.

Vulcan's new fire equipment in this, the try-out, proved its thorough efficiency.

RECEIVES VALUABLE PRESENTS

By a regrettable oversight no mention has been made in these columns of the birth of Donald Russell Speer, which took place at 126 on the morning of the first day of 1930, thus winning for him many gifts from the merchants of Lethbridge.

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Speer and the new Albertan was born at the private maternity home operated by his grand-mother, Mrs. E. Speer. Dr. Carson was the physician in attendance.

Vulcan is extending a cordial welcome to the prize baby, and congratulations to the happy parents.

Mr. Robinson of Len Davis' orchestra spent last week end in Grandin.

Miss Alma Shaw underwent an operation for appendicitis in the municipal hospital on Sunday night. Many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

ALBERT BUSHMAN FOUND HANGED

Albert Bushman, aged 45, who had lived in the Vulcan district about a year and a half, was found hanged in the shed of the Co-operative Lumber Company on January 10th. The body was found hanging by a rope from a beam by L. F. Dawson, manager of the company.

Bushman came to Vulcan about 18 months ago and for some time had been working on W. J. Peterson's farm. He had been missing since the previous night and a search was being instituted for him when his body was found.

The funeral took place from the United Church, Vulcan on Monday at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. N. Brunton officiating. Mr. Kelly had charge of the arrangements which were conducted under the auspices of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., and the service was attended by comrades and friends.

High River Juniors anticipated a tough battle, when they took on the Vulcan Juniors on Friday evening, and the win of 4-3 for the Vulcanites left no sting.

The visitors were a formidable body, heavier and more experienced than the locals and show the result of Bearcat Murray's incessant coaching. They showed better finish round the goal and fire hard shooters. A number of them would make creditable intermediate material. Brown, Marshall and Ferguson play a noticeably clever game.

As usual, Ikey Phillips got first shot on goal, but shortly after injured his kneecap and was off for the rest of the game. Within three minutes of start, Marshall of Vulcan scored with a quick shot. However the lack of confidence shown at first by the local boys disappeared and the game developed into a real struggle.

In the second period, Brown and Seaman of Vulcan turned in another goal, with Brown taking the pass from Seaman to score. Hot on top of the faceoff, McCorquodale took a lone flight, and beat Schenck. This second spasm showed splendid hockey, with teams evenly matched and hitting their stride in great shape. Score 2-1.

The third period was still more exciting, with goals registered and goals missed. Marshall, the Vulcan flash, again unassisted, got by the local goalie. But shortly after Black caught a pass from McCorquodale and drove in the second shot for High River. Brown of Vulcan collected another goal, while in a few minutes Peterson who was at the top of his form, in the last period, collected another for his home town. How the game would have gone with a few minutes more to play, is hard to say.

Of the local boys, Peterson and Black stood out. Peterson played brilliantly especially in the last period when he opened up on speed and shooting. Black showed as a wonderful stick handler and played a fast, heady game. Sorkilmo always holds up his end in reliable play. Don Pearson is a coming fast player; Fat Irving who was the speedy boy of last season, was handicapped by lack of practice. All the boys of both teams did good work, Pollard the local goalie, stopping more shots than Schenck. Altogether the fans were delighted with the keenness and system of both teams.

Vulcan—Goal, Schenck; defense, Clark, Hemingway; forwards, Marshall, Brown, Ferguson, Vaughn, Macdonald, Seaman, Kaiser.

High River—Goal, Pollard; defense, McCorquodale, Peterson; forwards, Sorkilmo, Marshall, Phillips, Black, John Pearson, Don Pearson, Irving.

The High River Times.

VULCAN CLUB BANQUETS VISITING CURLERS

Visiting curlers were entertained by the local club on Thursday last week to a banquet which was excellently catered for by the Women's Auxiliary of St. Aldhelm's church, and a most enjoyable time was experienced as a preliminary to a business session of the Foothills Curling Association.

Mr. N. Holmes, president, ably occupied the chair, and brief speeches were delivered by Mayor Butchart, who welcomed the visitors on behalf of the town; Mr. A. J. Flood; Mayor Young and Mr. A. W. Kelly of High River; Mr. V. E. Hessel of Okotoks; and Dr. Carson.

It was decided to hold next year's bonspiel at Okotoks, and Messrs. J.V. Hessel and R. Knowles were elected president and secretary, respectively. The executive will comprise representatives of the several clubs concerned.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT BY VULCAN YOUNG PEOPLE

A very delightful and interesting entertainment was given on Monday and Tuesday evenings, by the Young People's Association of the United Church in the Vulcan theatre.

Mr. Denbigh and Mr. Scott very kindly assisted in the make-up of the characters and the stage preparation. The first number in the evening was a song "Tiptoe through the Tulips with Me," sung, and accompanied with dancing, by Eunice McIntyre, Helen Simington, Margaret Munro and Sylvia Seaman. Their encore "Singing in the Rain," was very well rendered and had plenty of jazz. All of them wore raincoats, the two representing boys; wore silk hats and carried canes, the two girls carried parasols.

Mr. N. Todd gave a reading entitled "Ballad of Blasphemous Bill," which resulted in an encore entitled "Ballad of Hard Luck Henry."

Theron Vaughn and Harry Ferguson gave a negro sketch, song and dance combined, which produced much laughter.

Mr. Robinson played two saxophone solos which were appreciated by all.

Harry Purdy, dressed as a negress gave a sketch, song and dance, which brought down a storm of applause from the audience. For an encore he played the bones with considerable dexterity.

The play entitled "The Teeth of the Gift Horse," was the last item on the program. Mr. and Mrs. R. Butler a very modern young married couple, were represented by Ralph Featherston and Marian Flood. The part of Aunt Mariette was played by Mary Craig; Helen Simington took the part of Ann Fisher; Edna McPherson the part of the maid and Clyde Clark the part of D. Blake.

The play was very well-presented and its humorous side was made the most of. Music was furnished by Mr. Len Davis and Mr. Robinson between each number and they also accompanied each musical item throughout the program. There was quite a large attendance at the theatre each night despite the cold weather.

INTERCHANGE

After a little preliminary candid repartee, Alberta and Manitoba have gotten together on a sisterly basis, in the matter of exchanging commodities. Alberta has decided to use Tyndall Manitoba stone as basis of construction in the new $700,000 administration building at Edmonton. Stone to the value of $250,000 will be used.
In making this decision the Government has been influenced by three reasons. First, the belief that Canadian industry should be patronized where possible; second, with existing business depression, there is obligation on all governments to do all in their power to help home industry; third, Alberta is renewing a drive to establish further the use of her coal, particularly in Manitoba, and by patronizing the Manitoba stone, that province may be inclined to consider more seriously, the desirability of buying Alberta coal.

STICK TO YOUR IDEALS

If you possess faith and hope and courage, you are an idealist. That is the simplest definition though ideals may take a thousand different forms.
The cynic's definition of an idealist is that he is a person who believes what he knows to be untrue. If that is so, then idealists are fools or knaves, but the greatest folly of all is to think that.

All that fine work of the world, all that we know by the term progress has been achieved by men and women who had faith, hope, courage.
They were idealists. They believed in their ideals. They worked and fought for them.

It is because of the idealists' faith in the ultimate betterment of mankind that progress is possible.

Nothing is more necessary in the world to-day—when our values of life are undergoing such drastic changes—than ideals aided by knowledge.

Stick to your ideals. They are the power that get things done.—Brampton Conservator.

HOW CRUEL!

That young girl, figure entirely too conspicuously in America and receive infinitely more attention than their gifts and graces warrant, has long been the contention of visitors from older lands.

A middle-aged cantankerous man having listened to an unusually terrible exhibition of conversational inanity on the part of a self-satisfied young goddess exclaims: "I know of only one creature sillier than a girl and that is a sheep. The girl may show more sense in getting out of the way of automobiles, but from the point of view of conversation the sheep is preferable. Its bleating is at least negative inanity."

CONSULT YOUR DOCTOR

Cancer is one of the most frequent causes of death in adults. Over 8000 people die yearly in Canada from that disease. There could be a great reduction in number of cancer cases if only people consulted their doctor early. Cancer is not a hopeless disease. It has been proven where cancer was properly treated at the initial stages of the disease, a very high percentage of cases were cured. Consult your physician as soon as you observe signs of any malady and you will be safe-guarded from much trouble and sickness.

SHORT SIGHTED

The Gleichen Call on January 8 issues this statement: "The Call was not published last week owing to the fact that the business men of the town claim they could not afford to advertise. This may appear a strange statement in these modern days when the big majority of successful business claim they can not afford not to advertise at every opportunity."

This candid explanation from the publisher of the Gleichen paper emphasizes again the well-known fact that without advertising a newspaper cannot flourish, in fact the machinery stops running.

The local paper is a mirror of the community and business spirit of any town, and if the mirror does not present an attractive picture, so much the worse for the community. There must be co-operation.

The fact that the Gleichen paper was obliged to suspend publication even for one issue, reflects on the business enterprise of the town. It proves once more, that the business men cannot afford not to advertise.

REAL THIRD DEGREE

The Review omitted to mention in its report of the New Year's Eve dance last week that Chief Stewart rendered a selection on that Scotch instrument of torture, the bagpipes.
Its funny what some people can do and get away with it. Nobody ever asked the Editor to sing or play the Irish harp at any gathering and in fact it has been intimated that any attempt on our part to entertain in this way would be likely to cause a decided waning in our popularity.
Yet the chief can play (or make a noise) with an atrocious instrument like the bagpipes and actually be applauded for the performance. We'll have to keep a watch on the Chief, who as his names indicates hails from bonny Scotland himself, to see that he isn't using it as means of giving some of his prisoners the third degree, though we think he is really too humane to perpetrate anything of that kind.—The Okotoks Review.

RECKLESS WITH MATCHES

"You'd be amazed at the carelessness displayed by some people in connection with gasoline," remarked a prominent garage man recently. "The other day a well-known farmer, drove up for gas. His family of children were in the car. I proceeded to fill his tank with gas and to my horror he lit a match to see if the tank was nearly full. Before I could prevent it, the gas commenced to burn and the only thing that saved us from being blown up, was burying the nozzle in the snow. Meanwhile the car commenced to burn and the children were taken out and the fire extinguished after some damage to car and upholstering."

Reduction in light and power rates went into effect at Drumheller the first of the year by the Union Power Co. The largest reduction is made for commercial lighting service, the existing maximum rate of 12 cents for the first K.W.H. being reduced to 10 cents for the first 50 K.W.H., then to 9 cents for the next 200 K.W.H., 6 cents for the next 500 K.W.H. and 4 cents for any excess. There will be a service charge of 50 a month made for the first 500 watts or fraction and 25c per month for each additional 500 watts. The lowest rate at present is 8 cents for excess over 600 K.
W.H.—Drumheller Mail.

A new public library was opened to the public last week at Drumheller.
It is said to be one of the finest in Western Canada. It is a fine sign to see citizens of Drumheller taking time from their economic problems to take part in cultural effort.

About 15,000 acres of farm lands in Alberta are owned by titled members of the British nobility, including H.R.
H. the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Sutherland, Earl of Minto, Lord Cheylesmore, Lord Rodney and the Earl of Egmont.

AGAIN WASTE GAS

Canadians Should Take Cognizance of What is Happening in U. S.

Under the head of the "World's Worst Waste," an article in Nation's Business, attacks this matter from the American viewpoint. Wasteful competition in sinking wells is regarded as a serious menace to the world's supply of petroleum. It says: "Countless millions of dollars worth have been and still are being lost in the American fields. Three oil fields near Los Angeles have wasted in two years enough gas to supply that city for 25 years. The gas waste in California is as though 25,000 tons of coal were bought and paid for daily and uselessly burned. And the worst is that if the gas pressure necessary to oil production, escapes to a great extent, there is no longer sufficient pressure to force up the oil."

It is possible to capture most of the gas as it emerges, extract gasoline from it and use it commercially or force it back in the earth to help maintain pressure.

Drilling too many wells is a wasteful practice. One well to ten or 20 acres is usually sufficient for development. Yet often ten wells are drilled to an acre.

In the Santa Fe fields, a great excess of wells was dug, and worse still a few of the operators decided to go after oil at lower level. The other operators, though strongly in favor of leaving the oil in the earth until better market conditions, were obliged also to drill lower to protect themselves. Thus an excess of oil unneeded was brought to the surface. Above ground storage adds 50 cents to the cost of a barrel of oil.

The life of an oil field is short. In the past, half the fields production has come in the first five years. Three per cent. of the wells produce 50 per cent. of the oil.

What can be done to prevent production when already there is too much oil above ground? How can wasteful operation be prevented?

The possibility of arriving at some solution is shown by the treatment of Kettleman's Oil Field in California.
Some of the land in it was government land. Oil was not needed at that time, but the government had no authority to hold up production. Despite this, Secretary Wilbar secured an agreement from various interested parties, not to produce for a year and a half, and in the meantime to study possibility of co-operative development. Kettleman's Field is to become a demonstration of the proper handling of a great oil field.

Co-operation which would work toward public interest, would greatly lengthen the life of oil fields and prevent wastage.

FIRE DESTROYS RINK

A fire broke out in the Arrowwood curling rink at 3 o'clock Sunday morning, originating in the waiting room of the rink and finding its way through the vents. The rink is a total loss. From there the fire spread to Lawyer Wm. MacDonald's office, which also was completely destroyed.
Valuable contents including a library was burned, only partly covered by insurance. The fire was detected by R. R. Saunders, druggist, who climbed on to the burning roof, where the fire bell was located. He rang the bell until forced by smoke and flames to leave his dangerous post. He roused the citizens from the telephone central by calling as many as possible.
Phillips Hardware was greatly endangered, but it was only through the splendid efforts of a water brigade that the same was saved. A three-day bonspiel had just been completed. All the curling rocks were destroyed. Damage is estimated at $6,000. Only due to most favorable winds a large portion of the town of Arrowwood was saved from destruction.

REAL FELLOWSHIP

(Warton Echo)

"Oh, there was an old geeser and he had a wooden leg, He had no tobacco, no tobacco could he beg; Oh, said the old geeser, will you please give me a chew?"

Said the other old geeser; "I'll be jiggered if I do!"
"Blest be the tie that binds Our hearts in kindred love."

and so on, and so on. He belongs to our church! He is of the craft! He votes right. He comes fra Dumnies-hire, too! They are a dozen things which will draw men into a common fellowship. A dozen things will impel their allegiance to one another and hold them bounden together against most outside attacks, but through my office window to-day I witnessed a sample of the real, pure unadulterated quintessence of friendship which has all other forms placed in the shade, backed off the map.

Pete—"How are you to-day, Joe?"
Joe—"Fine. How are you, Pete?"

Pete—"Not so bad, but she's pretty cold, ain't it?"

Joe—"It sure is. How's your 'chewing,' Pete?"

Pete—"I think I got a little."

And Pete took off his right mitt and shoved his hand into his right pants' pocket to accommodate his friend, Joe. It wasn't there, so off came his left mitt and down into his left pants' pocket went his left hand. After fishing around for a couple of minutes amongst coppers, silver, keys and blind-twine, out comes a half a plug of MacDonald's chewing, which he handed over to his bosom croney.

Joe blew on it to get the dust, fuzz and short hairs separated from it. He was not successful, so he gave it a wipe on the hip of his pants. And then he took a chew—and handed back the balance to Pete. Then the conversation was taken up, with the clacking of tongues, the waving of arms, the stamping of feet, the spitting of spit, the pointing of fingers. Maybe they talked of the election! Maybe they talked of the price of hogs! I do not know, but I did see in that chew of tobacco, something which produced a common fellowship, a community of interest, a tie that bound—a common free masonry. Would that there were more "chewing" to cement man to his fellow-men.

MUST BE REMEDIED

Existing Conditions Regarding Rights of Owners Versus Oil Companies

Antagonism toward existing oil regulations is not only acute, but is becoming more articulate. The Times has received a number of communications on last week's criticism of conditions and numbers-of-instances have come to light wherein oil companies have pressed their claims to proceed with drilling, regardless of the wishes of the resident owner.

Admittedly the government has a delicate situation to adjust, and too drastic action would lay it open to the charge of retarding development. On the other hand, the whole Canadian sentiment leans toward the primary right of the individual owner of land, and any amendment which would safeguard these rights would meet general approval.

Many of the people who find themselves confronted by a situation which permits companies to operate on their land, and demoralize it for its original purpose, are amongst our oldest settlers, bound to their property by deepest of ties, and over many years most sterling citizens. Their voice raised in protest is deserving of hearing, and they would be well advised to organize as petitioners in reasonable demand of their rights. The matter will become very much the concern of the provincial government, and should be kept in the foreground for consideration.

As was suggested in last week's issue, a royalty of 8 per cent. on all production on the land of the owner, would do much to alleviate the increasing hostility.

CLEAN UP BIG SHARE

Southern Alberta's 1929 harvest, one of the best ever taken off, was the shortest in period of time required of any normal crop ever grown. Here is the reason:

In 1928 there were 551 combines operating on the Lethbridge railway division. In 1929 there were 1166 in use, according to a very careful survey.

As each machine was capable of harvesting an average of 700 acres, this means that more than 800,000 acres, or close to half the total wheat acreage, fell before the new combined reaper thresher.

And the best of it is that the machines were being paid for during the fall. There were more combines sold during the year than ever before. The number of tractors and trucks was very close to a record. Yet implement men in Lethbridge said that the October-November clean-up of paper for all machinery was higher than in any year except 1917 when, with a fairly good crop, wheat sold well over $2.00 per bushel.—Herald.

HOW TO TREAT EGGS

The egg grading system established in 1923 by the Federal Government has been favorable beyond all dreams of its founder W. A. Brown, and has paved the way for the grading of other farm produce.

Though egg grading was regarded some years ago as revolutionary, it has met with hearty support from poultry growers, and has resulted in the quality of fowl and eggs being steadily raised. It has been good not only for the consumer who knows exactly what he is getting (whether specials, extras, first or seconds), but also for the producer, who is certain of reasonable reward for quality product.

It has given great impetus to an intelligent study of poultry problems and of how to make hens lay. It is an important branch of activity on many farms.

Again with the grading of eggs, the consumption has greatly increased. In the old days when the only way of knowing whether or not an egg would be good, was by breaking it, consumers were wary. They bought as few eggs as possible, and approached them with skepticism, never with enjoyment.

As an evidence of the new pleasure and security in egg-eating under the grading system, the per capita consumption of eggs in Canada has risen from 16.8 dozen per year in 1920 to 30.6 dozen in 1928.

The demand for high quality eggs has been so great that prices have risen steadily through the years. When other farm produce is also graded, the result will prove not only beneficial to the consumer, but also to the producer.

THE RISING TIDE

Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce, sums up the business situation of Canada thus:

It may be confidently asserted that the short crops of 1929 have failed to occasion more than a passing check to the rising tide of Canadian expansion. Again, the recession on the stock exchanges, though severely felt by many Canadians in the autumn months, must have the effect of turning surplus funds back from speculative to productive uses and reducing the current high rates of interest. Thus, in 1930 there will be more capital available for the needs of industry, and actual production will continue to expand.

The president of the Bank of Montreal addressing the shareholders of the bank, also says: "May I say that there never was a time in the history of Canada when business as a whole has been at a higher peak than during the year under review, or when the developed sources of our wealth were more wide and varied than they are today, and never a time when the earning power of our people was sustained in so many channels of production. We must not allow a possible temporary reaction, the result of a collapse in a purely speculative orgy in the stock markets, unduly to distort our view. Fundamental conditions are sound and there is no reason for apprehension as to the ultimate future of Canada."

A minister in a country church in Scotland stopped his sermon to ask a listener who was somewhat deaf: "Are you hearing, John?" "Oh! aye" was the answer, "I am hearing, but to verra little purpose!"

FIRST FLOUR MILL

Nova Scotia had the first flour mill to be built in Canada. The event took place at Port Royal in 1608. Wheat, however, had been grown previous to this in Quebec, as far back as 1542. It was not until 1733 that wheat was introduced by Le Verendyre into Manitoba, and the first wheat-shipment left Fort St. Charles on the Lake of the Woods in 1813. This shipment, as well as those of the next sixty years, was consumed in Canada and the U.S. It was not until 1877 that Canadian wheat was exported to Europe, although it was a difficult matter until the C. P. R. was finished in 1855.

Whole-wheat bread in those days was considered the "staff of life," and white bread is a comparatively modern invention.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

"Are the fish biting?" "I don't know," replied the weary angler, "If they are, they are biting each other."

"Gracious," said the doctor, "How did you get those awful bruises on your shins?" "Are you a hockey player?" "Oh, no, I just led back my wife's weak suit."

The law must have its "pound of flesh," in Missouri. A murderer in that state had his death sentence delayed until he adjusted his income tax.

Irish Priest (addressing damaged invalid): "I'm going to pray that you may forgive Casey for having thrown that brick at you." O'Leary: "Mebbe yer Riv'rance 'ud be saving toime if ye'd just wait till Oi get well and thin pray for Casey."

Two freight cars were badly damaged when struck by an engine on a north bound train at Aldersyde on Sunday morning. The train involved in the crash was delayed for about four hours. No one was injured.

Periodical publishers rejected more than $2,000,000 in advertising revenue last year to protect the public from fraud and deception.

At a meeting of Wheat Pool members at Granum recently war was declared on the high prices of oil and gas, and members are discussing the feasibility of going into the business themselves. The cost of producing their own supplies by purchasing a going concern such as a good well was discussed. Their aim will be to sell gasoline at 20 cents a gallon and oil at a corresponding low rate.

crashed into a level crossing gate de-

When he came out his car was gone, machine was again stolen to be used in a hold-up, but the hold-up ended sadly with one of the bandits being killed in the car, which was left parked near the scene of disaster.Again on New Year's Eve 1929, malignant fate pursues the same vehicle. It was once more parked at the dancing academy. And when the owner emerged after the party, he was pained but not surprised to find the car again missing. It was found in a couple of days.Next year he hopes to have a new the main feature. A later was de-month, a turkey supper followed with progressive five hundred, was to be the next event, this being the annual affair for the members and their husbands. The meeting closed after a nice lunch was served by the hostess.GOOD SEED GRAINExperimental Farm Notes Tells How and Where to Get Good Seed GrainGood seed is the first requirement of good crops, and because of this, no effort should be spared in procuring the best.Due largely to the efforts of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association good reliable seed is perhaps more readily available at the present time, than has been the case at any time in the past. This Association, made up entirely of growers has had as its objective, for a period of 25 years, the building up of reliable seed stocks of standard varieties, and the production of this seed in quantities sufficient to meet the popular demand.Seed that comes up to the requirements of Canadian Seed Growers' Association, and bearing a Government seal is known as Registered seed. Such seed is pure as to variety to the extent of 99.9 per cent., and furthermore is practically free from weed seeds and seeds of other kinds of grain.Registered seed is offered for sale by the growers themselves, and by reliable seedsmen in Canada. The Canadian Seed Growers' Association issues a catalogue each year, giving the names and addresses of growers of registered seed throughout Canada, and the approximate quantity for sale. This catalogue can be obtained through the office of the Association in the Jackson Building, Ottawa. It is therefore possible to obtain the names of Registered seed growers in any particular district in the country.

This is a valuable service because of the importance of using seed grown locally, and adapted to local conditions.The establishment of both large and small seed cleaning centres in some sections of the country, central-izes the cleaning and marketing of large quantities of Registered seed, and supplies another medium through which high quality seed can be obtained.When the purchaser is not prepared to pay the comparatively small difference in price between Registered seed and ordinary seed, it is sometimes possible to locate seed that traces back to Registered seed. When this is done, however, there is entirely no guarantee regarding the purity and quality in general of this stock, but it is often the case that this seed may be better than ordinary seed.By purchasing Registered seed in Canada, one need have no fear as to its reliability, both as regards true-ness to variety and quality in general.
It is never safe to invest money in seed upon which a crop is dependent, without a certain guarantee that the variety is recognized as being adapted to the locality and that the seeds are reliable and comparatively free from impurities.High quality seed of the Registered grades can therefore be purchased either from the growers or from reliable seedsmen in Canada, who usu-

HUMIDITYEvery Householder Should Make a Study of Humidity in House HeatingThe air in Canadian houses during a large portion of the artificial heating season is, with few exceptions, drier than that of the driest desert.
This is a fact which Canadians either do not know or do not appreciate.House heating is more than the simple process of maintaining the indoor temperature at that point where one does not feel cold. The designing of present day heating apparatus have done excellent work considering that standpoint; but, as a rule, they have neglected to take into account the natural law which governs the relations between air temperature and air moisture. The result is that, generally speaking, Canadian indoor air during the winter is excessively dry.This excessive air dryness is injurious to health, affecting more particularly the respiratory organs and the skin. It is destructive to woodwork and furniture, and to clothing and furnishings. It also necessitates the maintenance of higher temperatures for comfort than with air containing adequate moisture.Many people believe that excessive dry air conditions are to be found only in houses heated by certain types of heating equipment; also that such undesirable conditions may be remedied by opening the windows and admitting large quantities of cold, out-door air."Humidity in House Heating," a bulletin recently published by the Dominion Fuel Board in co-operation with the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior, points out that cold air saturated with moisture becomes dry on heating—not because moisture has been removed, but because of its greatly increased moisture capacity at the higher temperature. The air in houses during the winter cannot be otherwise than dry, unless provision is made in the heating equipment or by other means, to satisfy adequately this increased moisture capacity. Moreover, the admission of large quantities of outdoor air increases to a corresponding extent the moisture which must be supplied for this purpose."Humidity in House Heating" discusses briefly in non-technical language the essential features of air dryness in house heating, cause, effect and remedy. It explains what is meant by the expression "relative humidity," and points out that, for health and comfort, indoor relative humidities of from 40 to 50 per cent. should be maintained throughout the winter. It shows how a hygrometer is used to measure relative humidities, and points out that the effective control of humidifying equipment depends upon results as measured by means of this instrument.In addition to indicating, in a general way, various types of humidifiers which may be used, either in conjunction with the heating equipment or independently, to supply the moisture for healthful humidification, this bulletin stresses the fact that the evaporation of a few quarts of water per day in the average Canadian house during the winter months gives practically no relief from air dryness. The evaporation of from three or four to twelve or more gallons per day may be necessary, depending upon weather conditions and ventilation.The purpose in issuing "Humidity in House Heating" is not only to further the cause of good health, but to promote the more efficient employment of the fuel used for house heating; since the fuel used to maintain the high temperatures of 72 degrees to 75 degrees for comfort under dry air conditions may be used to greater advantage in evaporating the water for healthful humidification of air at the more moderate comfort temperatures so required.Copies of "Humidity in House Heating" may be obtained free on request from the Director, Natural Resources Intelligence Service, Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or from The Dominion Fuel Board also of Ottawa.The Advocate at $2.00 per year supplies a family need.SOLLOWAY MILLSPremier Confident that Arrest Was Proper Method for Bringing Situation Before PublicPremier Brownlee states that the action of the government in the arrest of Solloway and Mills is fully acted in any spirit of discrimination or ill-will toward any person justified. He says: "We have not or group of persons, but our position in this, as in any other case that comes before the Attorney-General's department, is to see that the laws of Canada are observed without fear or favor or partiality.""We have considered any possible bad effects on stock and investment business and have discussed them in correspondence with the government of their provinces. I do not know any country or civilization, however, where it is urged that a government should stay its hand, when the evidence would seem to indicate that action should be taken, simply because of the effect such might have on the stock market.""Other action that has been urged upon us, such as the appointment of a royal commission, was not adopted, for the reason that we felt it would lead to a great deal of misunderstanding and ill-considered action, and at the same time it would not give the government any more information than it already has in its possession." —The charge so far laid against Solloway and Mills is the common law charge of conspiracy. The charges now being considered by the Crown involve the Criminal Code.A great array of counsel is massed to handle this sensational case. A. L.
Smith, K.C., and J. J. Frawley of the Attorney-General's department, will act for the government, with McKinley Cameron, K.C., and McLeod Sinclair, K.C. acting in advisory capacity.For the defence A. A. McGillivray, K.C., and H. H. Parlee, K.C., of Edmonton, are retained.The charge to both partners read:
"Isaac W. C. Solloway, of Toronto, Ontario, did between the first day of May, 1928, and the 31st day of December, 1929, at Calgary, in the province of Alberta, by divers subtle means and devices, and by deceit, falsehood and other fraudulent means conspire with Harvey M. Mills, H.

other persons, to injure and civil wrong do to members of the public frequently the establishment of the Solloway Mills Co., Ltd., in the City of Calgary for the purpose of purchasing stocks, contrary to the peace of our Sovereign Lord the King, His Crown and dignity."It is expected that the prosecution of this case, will do much to clear the air, which in recent months has been disquieted.California's last raid of any magnitude fell on April 1, of 1929.The derriek at Wellington oil well was destroyed by fire on Saturday

Jan. 9-tf-cWAS NOT SPOON FEDThe outstanding success of George Pereverizoff of Southern Alberta, near Lethbridge adds another contribution to the stories of the persevering and enterprising farmer.Pereverizoff came to Southern Alberta in 1918 with $500 and some horses. He went into a country which was beginning to be dammed by loan companies and other concerns with investments there. He persevered in the face of great difficulties, and during the past three years he has added 57,000 bushels of wheat to the new wealth produced in Southern Alberta.Some will call it just luck. Others who look a little deeper, however, will see in Pereverizoff's experience in Southeastern Alberta something of the opportunities which this country offers to the settler who is determind to succeed. Pereverizoff went through the years 1918 to 1922, the worst period of drought in Southern Alberta's history. He worked and conserved his earnings, paid his debts and was able when the good years came to make himself one of the prosperous farmers of his district.
He did this under the handicap of being of foreign birth, a stranger to Canadian ways. And he was not spoon-fed, either.Pereverizoff's record should inspire a lot of confidence in the people of Southern Alberta. Lethbridge Herald.U. S. gossip is putting Dwight Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, into the presidential campaign as the Republican candidate to succeed Hoover.
It is also choosing a Democratic opponent in the person of Owen D.
Young, president of the General Electric Co., who was one of the authors of the celebrated Dawes plan, should such a contest come about it would be recognition of big business by both parties, for Morrow before becoming ambassador was a partner of the J.P.
Morgan banking house.STOCKTAKING
